

We are using MySQL for our DBMS. I already had MySQL installed on my development servers but for the purpose of this assignment, I reinstalled it on my current machine.

It was very simple, all I had to do was apt-get install mysql-server and mysql-client.

We created the database schema using Rails, and the generated SQL can be seen in create_table_statements.pdf

All the commands were entered through a text editor so there are no screenshots of a GUI editor.
